OFFICE OF THE CHRONICLE, CLARKSVILLE, Oct. 10, 1879. Our sales for the week will probably reach 500 hhds. The market is active, with a strong demand at prices-current, which, though apparently low, are higher than any other western market, and are above a parity of New York prices. How long the present good demand will last it is hard to say, but it is met feebly by holders, and rejections are few in number. The new crop is nearly all in the house, and we hope that it
